Seek Citation for Patsy Cummings, 4 Year old Heroine

Antioch Area Fails to Honor Child Who Saves Her Younger Brother

Recommendation that four-year-old Patsy May Cummings who recently saved her 13-month-old brother, Jimmy, from a fiery death in their trailer home at the Ravensglan farm be considered for an award from the Andrew Carnegie foundation has been made by Herman E. Murray, 418 N. Main St., Canton, Ill.

"Regardless of the youth of this girl, she saved a life and such acts should not go unnoticed," wrote Murray to the foundation in Philadelphia.

News of the little girl's heroism was carried in all of the major newspapers of Illinois.

Despite the worthiness of the situation in which the mother and two children were left penniless, the response to the appeal last week in the Antioch News for gifts to the family was very little.

In a situation of similar merit, North Chicago recently raised $1,000.

Channel Lake Crappie Yields Collapsible Boat For Brookfield Angler

Many Other Prizes from this Area in State's $50,000 Fishing Rodeo

Catching fish with a boat and an outboard motor in their gills sounds like a tall story, but it happened in Channel and Fox Lakes, 50 miles northwest of Chicago.

Joseph Matiya, of 4508 Deyo ave., Brookfield, Ill., is one of the lucky anglers. Panfishing with worms at high noon, he discovered attached to one of his catch a small aluminum tag stamped "48-CD-1083." Taking his tagged fish into the Channel Lake Boat House, he was advised by A. W. Shunnesson, the proprietor, that he had won a 7-man collapsible boat in the $50,000 Illinois Fishing Rodeo. The boat, fully equipped and contributed by Stark's Chicago Salvage Stock Store, 509 S. State st., was presented to Matiya in the Chicago office of the Department of Conservation, sponsor of the unique contest.

Then, casting a Johnson Silver Minnow in Ackerman's channels between Grass and Fox Lakes, John F. Sudzus, of 4437 S. Wolcott av., Chicago, hooked into a black bass wearing Tag No. 1928. At Charles Holmes' resort he said he hoped his prize would be an outboard motor, as that was what he had been saving up his money to buy. It was! A New Evinrude outboard motor, contributed by Holmes.

At Halfway Mark
Conservation Director Livingston E. Osborne announced meanwhile that as the contest neared the halfway mark—it started June 15 and terminates September 15—79 prize fish have been caught and recorded in the Chicago area alone. Of these, six have been taken in Channel Lake, which is tied with Petite Lake and Lake Marie for first place among prize winners in the Fox Chain of Lakes.

Other Chicago area waters which have given up prize fish are: Fox Lake, Churchill Preserve and McDowell Preserve, 5 each; Bluff, Grass and Round Lakes, 4 each; Maple Lake, 3; Cedar, Diamond, Continued on Page 7

Three Grass Fires in One Day Keep Firemen Busy

The Antioch fire department was called out on three grass fires yesterday, the records of Secretary Clarence Shultis show.

The first call was to the Ravensglan farm south of Rte. 173 on Rte. 45. The second was at the Bruce Dalgard farm east of Rte. 45 on Rte. 173, and the third at the Fred Scott place on Deep Lake Rd.

All three fires were rubbish fires that got out of control. Shultis said that the fact the property owners called the department early gave them opportunity to confine them to small areas. Firemen continued their warning of the dangers of grass fires during the dry weather.

Ed Knickelbein Received Letter of Sympathy from Mayor O'Dwyer of N. Y.

Edward Knickelbein, Sr., local merchant, received a letter from Mayor William O'Dwyer of New York in which he extended on behalf of the citizens of that city his sympathy, on the occasion of the burial here of his son, Lt. E. A. Knickelbein, Jr.

"I extend my heartfelt sympathy to the family of 1st Lt. E. A. Knickelbein, Jr., who so honorably gave his life that others might enjoy peace and freedom. I trust and pray his sacrifice will not have been in vain," wrote Mayor O'Dwyer.

Lions Club Heads "Patsy May" Fund To Aid Cummings

Appeal for Money, Clothing, Made to Organizations and Individuals

The Lions club of Antioch through its president, Edward C. Jacobs today announced it would conduct a campaign to give aid to Mrs. Elsa Cummings and her two children, Patsy May and Jimmy, in recognition of the little girl's heroic act in saving her brother in the trailer fire at the Ravensglan farm.

Determined that the community shall not let go unnoticed an act of heroism that attracted attention all over the Middle West, and aware that a courageous mother has been left destitute, the club will make special effort to raise a substantial fund for the family.

"We overlooked something when we allowed a person away from our community to petition the Carnegie Foundation for recognition of Patsy May's heroism," regretted Jacobs.

Jacobs said the club in its meeting Monday was not aware of the dire circumstances of the Cummings family.

Here is the situation: While Mrs. Elsa Cummings was away from her trailer home at the Ravensglan farm near Hickory Corners two weeks ago delivering milk to a pasteurizing plant, the trailer caught fire.

Four-year-old Patsy May carried her 13-month-old brother Jimmy out to safety through a smoke-filled passageway. A few minutes later the trailer was a mass of flames.

Mrs. Cummings had been paying for the trailer out of her earnings and had paid $1,000 of the $2,000 debt. The trailer, through a misunderstanding was not insured. The charred chassis was sold for $400 as payment on the $1,000 debt that remained.

The family lost clothing and everything except what was on their backs.

All of them need clothing. They need household utensils for a small building that the farm owner will build for them. They need cash.

Jacobs said that gifts could be left at the Antioch News.

Round Lake this year raised more than $1,000 for a family that lost all of its belongings in a fire.

Are We Callous?

(An Editorial)

Last week the Antioch News directed the attention of the citizens of the community to an act of heroism on the part of a four-year-old girl, Patsy May Cummings and the destitute condition of the little girl, her mother and little brother as the result of the loss of all their belongings in a trailer fire.

We thought that mere mention of the situation would bring a big response from the good people of the community. Other communities have responded nobly to such situations. But the reaction was pitifully small.

Believing that perhaps the campaign needs direction the Lions club has taken it over.

Are we to believe that Antioch is so callous that she has no sympathy for such unfortunates? We don't wish to.

The campaign to get clothing for the destitute abroad brought a noble response. Other campaigns such as the polio drive have gone over big.

Here is a case that has attracted national attention by its worthiness. Will the community ignore it? Will you pass by on the other side?

Act within your organizations. Send your cash gifts to the Patsy May Fund, care of the Antioch News or checks to Mrs. Elsa Cummings, same address. Act at once.

Shoplifters Get $1,800 and Merchandise in Two Antioch Stores Saturday

Gang of Three or Four Men Take Advantage of Rush Shopping Hour

Two Antioch stores were victims of what is believed to be the same group of men shoplifters Saturday forenoon.

At the National Tea Co. food store $1,800 was obtained and at the Williams department store the shoplifters got nearly $175 worth of merchandise.

William Lang, manager of the food store said he was called away from his desk in the cage at the front of the store for a few minutes about 11 a. m. and when he returned, the "pickup" a collection made every two hours for deposit in the bank was missing from the metal drawer in the desk. The drawer was locked and the key missing.

The loss comprised $1,650 in currency and a check for $150 made out to his brother, Richard Langenstross of Chicago, and drawn on the Main State bank by the Custom Molded Products Co., of which Richard is a partner. Payment on the check was stopped.

Lang believes the men stood outside the store window and watched him put the money in the drawer and then loitered around the front of the store until he was called away—probably by one of the gang, and the money then taken.

Shoplifters were Professionals
The shoplifters no doubt are professionals and the ones who about noon took the merchandise from the Williams store. There while the clerks were few at the noon hour and quite a few customers were in the store, one of the men kept one of the proprietors Roger Williams, busy at the back of the store while the others got the merchandise.

Missing was a $120 table model radio, the best in the store, a pop-up toaster, an electric iron and three T-shirts.

Williams said that when the group of three or four men came in the store, one of them started toward the rear and he followed him back. Asked what he had in mind to purchase, the man said nothing, but that he was just looking. Williams said he kept a close eye on the man but was called away for a moment and in that time the man stole the T-shirts.

Clerks could not see the lifting of the other merchandise because of the opened radio lids.

Williams described the man he waited upon as tall, weighing about 190 pounds and having wavy brown hair.

He reported the formation of 619 new Lions Clubs and the addition of 31,696 men to the roster of the Association in the twelve-month period ended June 30, 1948, for a total of 6,808 clubs and 358,144 members. He stated also that during the year Lions Clubs were established in four additional countries: Sweden, Switzerland, Chile and Newfoundland. Lions International, he added, is now the largest, strongest and most active service club organization in the world, with Lions (Continued on page 7)

Harvesting in Progress In Antioch Township; Oats to Run 80 Bu.

Harvesting is in progress in this area and there are reports of good yields of small grain.

Only a few farmers use the combine because of their desire to keep the straw and so far, the farmers have merely shocked their grain ready for threshing later.

The Pedersens on Rte. 173 east of Rte. 45 used the combine and Al Pedersen said the oats will run about 80 bushels to the acre and the barley 60 bushels. This is a good yield for the area and compares with last year's good crop.

Corn is showing improvement but more rain is needed. The corn is spotty but given favorable conditions and the usual growing season it will yet be productive.

Lions Club Will Perform Some Duties of a Chamber of Commerce Next Year

Roy Kufalk, postmaster, said that in the absence of a Chamber of Commerce here, the Lions club is doing some of the service that a chamber would do.

He said that many inquiries about the community, about the rental of cottages and local interests come to the postoffice addressed to the Chamber of Commerce and that he has been turning them over to the club for replies.

Most of the inquiries are calls for rentals of summer cottages and call for a hasty reply. One day this week he got three letters of this nature. Next year the Lions club plans to receive listings of cottages and other information to provide service to inquirers.

Mr. and Mrs. John L. Horan were representatives of the Antioch American Legion post and auxiliary at a meeting of the Second Division American Legion held at Ottawa Sunday.

Wiring of Flood Lamp in Williams Store Window Burns, Doing Damage

The Williams department store was threatened by fire Monday evening when a flood lamp and its wiring became overheated and blazed in the front display window.

Todd Mapletorppe happened to be passing the store at the time and turned in the alarm.

Dean Williams, one of the proprietors said that fortunately the burning lamp and cord fell on some artificial grass that was fireproof, otherwise a blaze of serious proportions might have started.

As it was, there was much smoke and soot, and the damage was confined to the wigs of the manikins and clothing in the window.

He said the fact that the wiring was too small a gauge for the flood lamp accounted for the igniting of the wiring.

Public Service Company To Have New Exhibit at Lake County Fair Aug. 6

The electric farm show of the Public Service Company of Northern Illinois, which was a feature of last year's Lake County fair, will play a return performance at the 1948 fair, Aug. 6, 7, and 8 in Libertyville with a completely new exhibit, it was announced today by E. A. Menke, district superintendent for the utility.

With "better methods" as the theme of the new exhibit, the display, especially produced for the county fairs, shows how electricity saves dollars and labor for both the farmer and the farm wife.

Housed in a "big top" tent, 60x90 feet, the exhibit features actual electrical equipment, working models and blow-up photographs demonstrating a model farm shop, adequate wiring for the home and other farm buildings, new ideas in feed handling, ventilating, heating and insulation of farm buildings, farm water systems, and crop irrigation.

Have Model Kitchen

As the center of attraction for the farm wife, a modern, well-planned kitchen and a model laundry room are installed on a revolving stage. Home service consultants for the utility will be available to discuss cooking and laundry methods, home planning, and other household subjects.

In addition to the farm and home electrical exhibits, famous stars of radio station WLS and the National Barn Dance will perform several times daily under the utility's "big top." The shows, free to all visitors at the fair, will feature such favorites as the Sage Riders, Gene Collin, Millie and Bobbie, Billy Beckett, the WLS Rangers and Mary Jane.

The exhibit will be open daily during the three days of the fair and all persons attending the fair are invited to visit the electric farm show and see their favorite WLS stars perform in person.

Something To Think About

What makes a free press possible? Private Enterprise! In every country where freedom of the press is lacking, or curbed, you will find a totalitarian government (a dictatorship). Under such a regime, government owns the basic industries. There is no incentive for constant improvement in order to appeal to the buying public. There is no particular reason for telling the public about all manner of products, such as is commonplace in the United States, in order to build business. The people have to take what the government offers and like it—there is no competition. Totalitarian governments seek unbridled power. Under such governments, there can be no free press for two very good reasons. First, government controls all the news and all the newspapers. Second, government-owned industries do not have to advertise. They do not have to win the public's business by superior products and salesmanship.

No country in the world has 12,000 rural daily and weekly newspapers, in addition to the metropolitan press, except the United States. No country in the world has a newspaper in practically every town of a few hundred population. Their income is derived from private enterprise—thousands of competing industries, from the greatest railroad and public utility to the smallest bakery and laundry. They all advertise to popularize their services or products and win public favor and business.

It has often been charged, for political purposes, that advertising controls the American press. This is not so because competition is so varied that no branch of business is powerful enough to dominate the press. Volume and variety in advertising makes possible a free press.

No group of men and women in the United States is more vitally interested in opposing government ownership of business, as a matter of principle, than are newspaper editors. They are the nation's safeguard against the economic teachings of many of our principal colleges and text books which openly espouse the superiority of government operation of business as contrasted with private operation, on the phoney "liberal" philosophy that we have outgrown the days of private endeavor, and that only government is now capable of handling the basic industries of the nation. Such teachings are the opposite of every principle upon which our government was built, and if accepted will lead to the destruction of private enterprises including a free press. When that happens personal liberty itself will be gone.

This is something for editors, industrial leaders and individuals to think about, because the ground is already well prepared to extend government ownership of business (socialism) in our country.

Behind The Eight Ball

A basic tenet of law is that a man is innocent until proven guilty. Unfortunately, public opinion often condemns without justification and the accused party must prove himself innocent. Such has been the position of the steel industry. Steel prices lag far behind most commodities, but steel has had an uphill job explaining its problem to the public. Newsweek, describing the situation, says:

"Today's big earnings of U. S. Steel are possible only because its old plants have been written off to a nominal value of $20 a ton of annual capacity. To replace that capacity today would cost close to $300 a ton."

"The rest of the industry is in similar straits. On Jones & Laughlin Steel Corporation books the investment in steel-producing facilities is valued at $6,934 an employee. But Admiral Ben Moreell, J & L president, believes that to replace them at today's prices would cost between $30,000 and $40,000 a worker."

"The steel companies are behind a bigger eight ball than even many steel executives have fully appreciated. As long as present steel mills, ore, coal, and limestone properties hold out, they will continue to report comfortable profits. But when these have to be replaced, steel prices must jump considerably or the industry will find itself deep in the red."

Boy Buys Big Red Fire Engine For 25 Dollars

NAPA, CALIF.—Like most boys, 10-year-old David Hotelling dreamed of owning his own real, regulation-size, red fire engine. He heard that the Napa city council was selling a 1926 model to make room in the firehouse for new equipment. David counted his savings—earned by selling household articles and doing odd jobs—and made a $25 bid. It was the only one the council received and David was awarded the fire engine.

Hundreds Join Gold Rush in New Jersey

Searchers Excavate Feverishly For Buried Treasure

HIGHLANDS, N. J.—A seashore gold rush was underway as hundreds of people converged here in a hunt for buried treasure.

The reported discovery of six more eighteenth century gold coins on the banks of the Shrewsbury river, near the Atlantic ocean, gave impetus to the search.

About 400 men, women and children streamed over the beaches beginning at chill dawn in a big beach-combing operation. Armed with rakes, screens, shovels, pails and assorted digging implements, many sifted the sands in this legendary pirates' port of call.

A Newark coin dealer, Fred W. Burnet, said from descriptions of the coins found he believed them to be old Portuguese doubloons, possibly pirates' treasure. He estimated that, in good condition, the coins probably are worth about $75 each. Fifteen of the coins have been discovered altogether since William Cottrell, 75, first picked one up while strolling on the beach.

The oldest is dated 1735. The coins were turned up near the area of the previous finds, some below the high water mark.

Stories of pirates' treasure flew thick and fast in this resort town of about 2,000 population. A crowd gathered to watch the excavations of the hopeful hunters.

Many believed the coins had been dug from the river bottom when the Shrewsbury was dredged about 12 years ago. Sand from the dredging was pumped along the banks and has been washed and blown away during the years.

Nurses in V. A. Hospitals Quit Jobs to Get Married

WASHINGTON—Veterans administration officials, struggling to maintain hospital personnel, face an unbeatable foe—Cupid.

"Our resident doctors and internes are marrying our nurses too fast," complains Dr. Paul B. Magnuson, VA medical director.

Not all of the nurses quit their jobs as soon as they get married, he said, but many do.

This, however, is only one of Dr. Magnuson's several hospital personnel problems.

In all types of medical personnel, VA now is short 6,000.

There are 4,217 doctors in the 126 VA hospitals, of whom 1,200 are scheduled to leave this year. These are young men who will have completed their training under special army and navy programs.

Dr. Magnuson believes a number of these will decide to remain with VA for additional training toward their medical specialties.

He also is working out a deal with the country's best medical schools to get other young doctors, also working toward specialties, to take two years of training at VA hospitals.

He can offer them salaries ranging from $4,100 to $7,000, and the advantage of supervision and instruction by the best of the nation's medical men.

Pregnant Ewes Need Good Feed to Produce Top Lambs

AMES, IOWA—It is important that pregnant ewes are fed adequately, especially during the last half of the pregnancy period, to produce strong, healthy lambs, W. F. LaGrange, animal husbandman at Iowa State college, said.

In figuring a ration, consider more than maintenance of the ewe. Remember, she is producing one or more lambs, growing a fleece of wool, and building up reserves for the suckling period, all at the same time, LaGrange advises.

High quality legume hay is a good base for a ration, LaGrange says. That means hay that is leafy, of good green color, and free from mold. Silage may be included up to one to one and one-half pounds per day until lambing time. After lambing, the amount of silage may be increased.

During the last month or two of pregnancy, one-half to one pound of a mixture of corn and oats should be added, depending on the size and condition of the ewe. Free access to salt and a mineral mixture is important, especially if leafy legume hay isn't fed.

Pregnant ewes should have regular exercise, too, LaGrange says, but it should not be severe.

Deadwood Dick's Home Town Sheds Its Six-Shooters

DEADWOOD, S. D.—Day after day goes by here in this crossroads of the old west and nary a man falls, bullet sieved, in his own gore.

The brick high school outshadows the biggest wooden saloon. Night is lit by the neon sign instead of the flaming six-gun, and the thudding hoofs of the outlaw's fleeing pony echo only in the pulp magazines. You get a ticket now for parking in the wrong place.

Grandsons of the posers that chased the bad mer out of town hold convalescence on how to welcome the good tourist.

Yessiree, podner, old Deadwood, capital of that vanished frontier where "the coward never started and the weak died on the way," has gone respectable. "Wild Bill" Hickok and "Calamity Jane," asleep in their hill cemetery, wouldn't know the town they helped make famous—or infamous.

Ban On Gambling

Its present attack of civic virtue—gambling was banned two years ago—is deplored by some of Deadwood's citizenry. But 78-year-old D. M. McGahey, curator of the Adams memorial hall, feels that Deadwood's flamboyant characters—Hickok, "Deadwood Dick," and "Calamity Jane," army scout and lady tosspot—have had entirely too much attention.

He calls them "the long hairs" and grudgingly keeps a case of their relics in the museum only out of deference to public interest. In the case is "the dead man's hand"—ace and eight of spades, ace and eight of clubs and queen of hearts—held by "Wild Bill" when the frontiersman, a man with 36 notches on his guns, was ventilated through the back by Jack McCall in the No. 10 saloon.

"Wild Bill Hickok was never anything but a gambler here," grumbled McGahey. "As for Calamity Jane, the best you can say for her is that she never did anyone any harm except herself."

Dick Was a Fool

"Deadwood Dick—or at least one of the four men who called themselves that—was the dumbest fool that ever came over the pike," snorted McGahey. "He didn't know which end of a gun to hold away from him when he pulled the trigger."

"What did these long hair celebrities ever do for the country? People should pay more honor to the real pioneers who built up the west. Men like W. E. Adams, who came here in 1877, with a team of mules and a load of hardware and went into business."

Adams, who died in 1934, left $100,000 to establish the museum.

But Wild Bill and Calamity Jane, whatever their morals when alive, still draw hundreds of thousands of visitors here. The gunman and the amorous lady are buried in adjoining graves—which is closer than Hickok cared to be to her during his lifetime.

"Some people try to make out that those two long hairs were in love," grumbled McGahey, "but Wild Bill couldn't see her."

Pupils Clamor for Teacher Who Gave Them "Hot Foot"

MATTHEWS, IND.—A high school mathematics instructor was dismissed for giving "the hot foot" to pupils who dozed in his classroom. An hour later most of the school's 88 pupils went on strike to protest his dismissal.

Hobart Black was dismissed by John Walters, trustee of the Matthews high school. Walters said Black frequently gave pupils "the hot foot."

He charged that this "careless use of fire in the classroom" endangered pupils' lives.

He accused Black, who also served as a grade school principal, of insubordination and refusing to carry out orders.

The pupils paraded through the streets with placards demanding Black's reinstatement.

Walters said Black was "very popular with the kids." But he contended Black was "too lax."

Walters said the pupils were "overwrought."

The pupils picketed the school a second time. They again carried placards asking that their teacher be rehired.

Planes Overtake Twice; Rider Switches to Auto

ROOSEVELT, UTAH.—V. A. Bair, Roosevelt merchant, decided it was just not his day for a plane ride.

Bair chartered a small private plane to fly him to Salt Lake City on a business trip. A gust of wind caught the plane just as it started its takeoff and the craft was flipped into a snowbank.

Bair and the pilot crawled out unhurt.

So the would-be flyer chartered another plane. Just as it was about to leave the ground a gust of wind caught it. The plane landed in the same snowbank. Bair and the pilot crawled out again—unhurt.

Bair made the trip by automobile.

More Liberal Waterfowl Shooting in Illinois is Sought by State Director

A final plea to Washington for more liberal waterfowl shooting regulations in Illinois has been made by the Department of Conservation, it was announced today by Director Livingston E. Osborne.

In a telegram to the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service, Director Osborne urged a 40-day continuous season starting Nov. 5, with a daily limit of 5 ducks and a possession limit of 10. Intimations have been made that the regulations will include only a 30-day season, 4 birds daily and a possession limit of 8.

Director Osborne's wire to the Fish and Wildlife Service said: "It is imperative that Illinois, being 412 miles long, have the following wildfowl regulations for 1948."

"Coot season shall stay the same, with 25-bird limit. (The 1947 special coot season for Lake and McHenry Counties was October 1 to 12) "Discontinuing the one-half hour before sunrise shooting.

"Horseshoe Lake shall remain closed this year.

"Illinois be given the same consideration as the Pacific flyway—a 40-day season, 5 birds daily and 10 in possession.

"Discrepancies between the Pacific flyway and Dakota and Illinois seasons will create a definitely unsatisfactory season in Illinois.

"The season should be a continuous season beginning November 5."

Director Osborne expressed hope that wildfowl hunters of Illinois communicate their wishes to the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service in Washington.

Red Cross Urges Veterans To Re-Instate Insurance on National Service Policies

The American Red Cross urges veterans to weigh very seriously his plans regarding National Service Life Insurance because July 31st is the dead line for re-instating National Service Life Insurance policies, that have lapsed for more than three months, without a physical examination. Veterans may re-instate their insurance by paying only two months premiums at the same rate they did while in service regardless of the length of time that has passed since the insurance lapsed.

At all times re-instatement may be made, within three months of date of lapse without necessarily taking an examination providing the applicant furnishes the required information to show that he is in good health as he was on the date his insurance lapsed.

Many more liberal features have been made available, including lump sum payments to beneficiaries, removal of restrictions on persons who may be named as beneficiaries and attractive endowment and limited pay policies.

Progress is now being made toward the payment of dividends but due to the tremendous amount of record keeping involved, payment of dividends will not be available in the immediate future.

According to a recent United Press dispatch from Washington, veterans may renew their term insurance for an additional period of five years when their present term policy expires however, the premium rates will be slightly higher.

All ex-servicemen may receive assistance in re-instating their insurance at the office of the American Red Cross, North Lake County Chapter, at 133 Belvidere St., Waukegan, Ill.

Motorists Warned of Law Enforcement in Eighteen Cook Co. Communities

A warning to motorists of exceptionally rigid enforcement of state and local traffic laws in 18 Illinois communities and two Indiana cities was issued today by Charles M. Hayes, president of the Chicago Motor Club.

Stressing that these enforcement efforts in no way represented "speed traps," Mr. Hayes said that motorists were being policed for strict compliance with all posted speed limits as well as statutory limits of 20 miles per hour in business districts, 25 in residential districts, and 30 in suburban districts, in communities conducting intensive enforcement campaigns.

Motorists are under equally strict surveillance for observance of amber caution lights and failure to come to complete stops at stop signs in the following 18 Illinois towns and cities: Arlington Heights, Brookfield, Forest Park, Lincolnwood, McCook, Oak Park, Bellwood, Cicero, Forest View, Lyons, Melrose Park, River Grove, Berwyn, Evanston, La Grange, Maywood, Northbrook and Skokie.

Cook County police are also extremely active in traffic law enforcement outside of cities, villages and incorporated towns. Cook County forest preserve rangers also are concentrating on enforcing obedience of speed limits and traffic signs Mr. Hayes reported.

Intensive enforcement drives are also being waged in Gary and Michigan City, Ind., and at New Buffalo, Michigan, the motor club executive reported.

FISHING BULLETIN NO. 17

July 27, 1948

Fishing the past week has been very spotty, ranging from fair to poor. Prospects for this week remain about the same.

Conservation officers in the Chain O' Lakes area report fishing as fair with some fishermen getting good strings of pan fish and some bass and pike.

Fishing in Lake Michigan has been generally poor.

Tax Increases are Felt
By Antioch Residents

Antioch township property owners were pretty much aware that they had received tax bills this week. Some amounts were nearly doubled.

School tax increases, a slight increase in the village tax and an upping of the valuation combined to make the increase felt.

In other townships the jolt was much higher. Warren township property owners met in an effort to get action in a tax reduction. Some received 200 per cent increases, and more.

North Carolina Contributes

North Carolina has made two contributions to the language of the world, one, the word "bumcombe" (from which bunkum and bunk), and two, the phrase about what the governor of North Carolina said to the governor of South Carolina as to the long time between drinks. It is still an unsolved mystery as to what governors at what time gave the world its saying in support of conviviality, but bumcombe as a word for loud and empty nonsense comes straight from the congressional talk of a statesman from Bumcombe county, around Asheville, N. C.

Varnish Detects Overloading

One of the newest ways of seeing how loads distribute themselves through objects and where there is the greatest load and most danger of breakage is by means of a sort of varnish on the outside of the test pieces. When there is enough load on the surface the coating cracks, always at right angles to the direction of the load.

Bones in Bird's Wing

Wing of the bird contains most of the bones found in a human arm, but has few like those of the human wrist and hand.

Department Gets Three Calls

The fire department was called to the Lehmann farm on Loon Lake rd., early last Thursday afternoon to extinguish a fire in a small garage. Monday evening they answered a call to the Williams store and on Tuesday afternoon extinguished a grass fire at the Krueger place at Lake Catherine.
